

Report – Crown Marshal

February 21, 2018

Greetings,

At this time, the Imperial Crown Marshal's office has updated the marshalling questions for our online Marshalling test. I have also set up a Facebook discussion group that I have added all local Crown Marshals I have been able to identify to. I am not requesting any formal reporting from the local marshals, but I have asked them to bring any questions, concerns, or issues to me either via the chat group or by direct e-mail. For the next quarter, I plan to work with the local marshals to create a more standardized marshal's quick guide to attempt to give more uniformity to marshalling in the Empire. I will also be sending out a request to all Crown Marshals asking them to certify that they have an appropriately stocked Marshalling kit.

In Service,

Mourngrym
