

Letter of Registration and Return May-June-July 2007

Greetings all,

As you are probably aware, the new Adrian Manual of Heraldic Display has been drafted and is being provided to the Estates of Adria for their perusal. A proposal will be offered as new business in July which will request a change to Writ 18. That change will be to modify writ 18 to point the reader to the new comprehensive document. This will accomplish several things, not the least of which will be to place the management of Adrian sumptuary rules within the pervue of the College of Heraldry where it belongs!

Note, try to use good form when blazoning proposals. The use of phrases like “of the first” or “of the third” when attaching tinctures is bad form. Just use the name of the tincture. If it’s red, say Gules Etc.

There have been proposals received from Albion, Alhambra, Chesapeake, Esperance, New Exeter, Somerset, Terre Neuve and Umbria.

Please remember to use current forms when developing a proposal and use the reporting tool built into the College of Arms website monthly. It will make all of our jobs easier! Also heralds, please help your populace get their heraldry registered by encouraging and using period style when rendering the emblazons.

In Service,
Sir Coda Drachensohn von Rammstein,
Fleur-de-lis King of Arms
Wappenkoenig von Adria

Esperance

Allen MacIan MacMahon

Personal

Device

"Argent, three lions passant regardant in pale Gules impaled by a sword Sable."

- Conflict: Sir James Rolandson of Alhambra (May, 2001)

"Ermine, three lions passant guardant in pale Gules."

Notes: Overall visual similarity. The base tincture of Ermine is Argent and so there is a RoT violation here. Also, the posture of the lion's heads is not a significant difference.

Terre Neuve

Jason Barca

Personal

Device

"Quarterly Gules and Azure, two lightening bolts in saltire surmounted by a celtic cross Or."

- Conflict: Shawn Patrick of Terre Neuve (December, 2006)

"Quarterly Gules and Azure, a mullet of eight points Argent."

Notes: Overall visual similarity. There are technically two points of difference, but the use of the lightening bolts under the cross bring the two devices into conflict. The shapes converge at a distance which makes the charge look like a star. With that in mind, there is only one cd for tincture.

Umbria

Cameron Kilshannig

Personal

Device

"Or, a crescent diminished and in chief two suns in splendor Sable."

Non-Period Style: Although this is cool, it needs to be drawn in period style. The crescent must look like a crescent and not a smiley face smile... Returned for Re-Draw.
