

Letter of Registration and Return February 2007

Greetings unto the College of Arms and the Empire,
January was a very quiet month. No proposals were received and so no LoRR was published for January.

During the month of February it was our pleasure to welcome Lord Horatio Merriweather back to the College of Arms. Horatio has been absent from Adria for a while due to his educational requirements at UCLA. He has held several positions within the CoA, serving as Vox Coronis Herald, Embattled Hope King of Arms, Solaris King of Arms and Del Sol Herald previously.
Please join me in welcoming Lord Horatio back.

I have received a listing of expired members and so a “Grand releasing” is in the works. Look for it in May or June.
I have received proposals from Terre Neuve and Esperance for February.

Yours in Service,
Sir Coda der Drachensohn von Rammstein,
Fleur-de-lys King of Arms
Wappenkoenig von Adria

*** The saltire must be drawn wider than on the proposal document. *****

I am not returning the proposal because this is an easy correction. Remember that a saltire is one of the honorable ordinaries formed by a bend and a bend sinister which overlap. Its width is one-fifth of the field but one-third when charged.

Returns

Terre Neuve

Rayne of Eagles Roost

Personal Device

Quarterly Gules and Sable, a cross patonce surmounted of a death'shead all Argent.

- R.o.T. Violation: White skull on white cross. This configuration is similar to “Sable, two thigh bones in saltire surmounted by a skull Argent” commonly known as the “Jolly Roger”. However, the cross on this device is far more substantial than the thigh bones which make up the saltire of the pirate flag. In a case like this, charges of similar weight must be of contrasting tinctures.
