LETTER OF REGISTRATION AND RETURN

JANUARY-FEBRUARY

2017

Unto Their Imperial Majesties, and to all unto these letters come do I, Dama Antonia Lopez-Hawk, send greetings.

With this Letter all proposals received since the end of January will be recognized. This is the Official Letter of Registration and Return for the months of January and February 2017.

I would like to make a clarification on a charge that has been misidentified as of late.

The charge known as a triquetra is simply a three point device.

Whereas the triquetra interlaced with an annulet is another.

Please be aware when submitting your proposals that you use the proper description of what you want to avoid having to have your blazon not looking the way you intended.

Reports were received from the following chapters:
Albion-Rayonné, Alhambra, Auroch's Fjord, Cathair na Caillte, Esperance, Glynmore, Lancaster, Terre Nueve, Thinairia, Umbria, Var Hiem

In Service to the Empire,

Partition Lines/ Field Divisions

There are so many ways to create a unique device by using division lines.

In this article, we will look at some "basic" and some "complex" lines that are safe to use in your Adrian Heraldry.

In the Heraldry manual on page 20, section V.a.1,2
1. A field may be divided by partition lines running in the direction of any SIMPLE ORDINARY (VII.A)
2. A field may be composed of multiple partition lines in the direction of SIMPLE ORDINARY, filling the area of the shield.

Divisions
part 2

The Chevron is considered a "simple Ordinary" There are a few different ways to use your chevron,
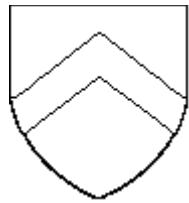

The basic chevron	Per Chevron	Chevron Inverted	Chevron Rompu
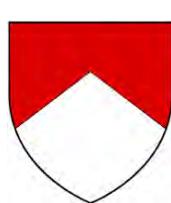

These are just a few samples of the Chevron, there are many. Yet, even with this simple ordinary, there are rules that we must all follow.

1. Remember the color vs. metal rule.

2. You can make any chevron unique, just add a complex line to the chevron.
For example:

Imperial Archives office.

3. Use the lines on your form to draw your chevron correctly, if it looks "wonky" it might be returned.

4. Are you adding a charge to your chevron? Make sure that you have a good balance in size and amount. Like:
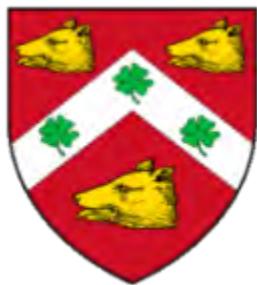

Kirian Payne of Drachetor

5. if you are using Per Chevron, thy to make your charges balanced in size as well, it looks strange to have different sized charges.

Here is an example of a correct Per chevron with charges:

Here is incorrect version:
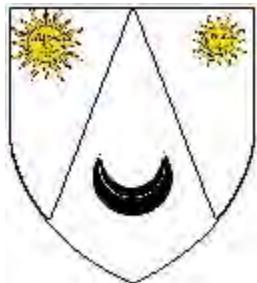

Have fun! Play with those amazing lines that are available. Look at the Armorial on the Adrianempire.org site. There are great examples there.

Work with your local Herald to get your Heraldry perfect for you.

The device's pictured here unless noted came from a simple google search.

Enjoy the adventure!
